

Dr. Patricia Williams Chapter Member of the Year Award Nomination

The Dr. Patricia Williams Chapter Member of the Year award is a national award to recognize an outstanding officer, senior leader, or other Alpha Chi star at campus award ceremonies.

Dr. Williams, the Alpha Chi leader for whom this award is named, was inducted as an undergraduate into the Texas Omicron chapter at Sam Houston State University where she was elected the chapter’s president. After her education, she joined the faculty at SHSU and became the official chapter sponsor. Williams went on to serve on the Region II executive committee and then many productive years on the National Council, including terms as both its vice president and president.

Complete this one-page form (no fee required) and send it to the National Office. The office will then prepare a formal certificate for shipment to the noted contact for presentation. Each chapter is invited to give one award per academic year, and we truly hope each chapter will make this an annual event.
